FoodWorld: The Gateway to Global Market

Indian agriculture sector has come a long way since the time of independence in 1947. After attaining the self-sufficiency in food grains through Green Revolution, the country focused on production on fruits & vegetables, milk, poultry, fish etc. through focused programs. India is today the largest producer of F&V, milk, sugar, pulses, spices, oilseeds etc.. During the last two decades the food consumption pattern has significantly changed and that had led to the growth of a gigantic size food processing industry. Today the size of Indian food retail market is valued over $800 billion with a growth rate of 11% AGCR. With the rapid growth of the Indian economy, a shift is also being seen in the consumption pattern of the country, from cereals to more varied and nutritious diet of fruit and vegetables, milk, fish, meat and poultry products. All these efforts have resulted in the development of a sunrise industry namely the Food Processing Industries. The Indian food and grocery market is the world's sixth largest, with retail contributing 70 per cent of the sales. The Indian food processing industry accounts for 32 per cent of the country's total food market, one of the largest industries in India and is ranked fifth in terms of production, consumption, export and expected growth. It contributes around 14 per cent of manufacturing Gross Domestic Product (GDP), 13 per cent of India's exports and six per cent of total industrial investment. Indian food service industry is expected to reach US$ 100 billion by 2020.
